

'The heart commands'

For more than 500 years, the Hospitaller Order of St. John of God (Barmherzige Brüder) has been dedicated to helping the sick and needy in approximately 300 institutions around the world.

The hospital in Regensburg was consecrated by Brother Eustachius Kugler in 1929 and was the largest, most modern institution at that time in Bavaria. Brother Kugler was beatified in 2009 for his service to others and his work during difficult times.

Focused on the individual

The founder of the order, St. John of God, was a pioneer of modern health care. His motto "the heart commands" embodies the ideal of a holistic approach to treatment and continues to be valid to this very day: our treatment planning takes into consideration the wishes of the patients, their physical and mental condition and their individual situations. Along with physicians and nurses, our work integrates psychologists, spiritual advisors, physiotherapists, ergotherapists, music therapists, speech therapists, nutritionists and pain therapists.

About us

The Hospital of the Order of St. John of God Regensburg is the largest Catholic hospital in Germany and is the teaching hospital of the University of Regensburg. We serve patients from the region of Eastern Bavaria and beyond at our two locations in the Prüfening Straße and the St. Hedwig Clinic for Children, Young Adults and Women.

Quality is our hallmark

Our work is regularly reviewed by independent experts. Our hospital is certified according to the global quality standard DIN EN ISO, in conjunction with the ethical-Christian quality certification "proCum Cert", which takes into account criteria such as social competence and social responsibility in the field of quality control.

Interdisciplinary cooperation

State-of-the-art research shows that we can only achieve the best possible results for our patients in close interdisciplinary cooperation. Therefore we have decided to concentrate the knowledge and skills of our experts in specialised centres, which are regularly reviewed by external auditors.

We conceive of our hospital as a place of healing, compassion and help for each and every one of our patients and their relatives.
